

David Horn

MBA, CISA, CPFA

David has over 15 years of experience in Auditing across public and private sectors and has been a member of the ISACA London Chapter since 2004.

He has headed up the EMEA Technology team for BNY Mellon, the world's largest custodian bank, since March 2014. Prior to this, he spent 8 years at LCH.Clearnet, a global Central Counterparty clearing house, holding Project and Financial Internal Audit roles, as well as spending 3 years heading up Procurement Operations and Control.

David joined the ISACA London Audit & Risk Committee in 2015 in a voluntary position. He has an MBA from Cranfield University, as well as CISA, and is a Chartered Public Finance Accountant (CIPFA).

David has two teenage children and has a strong passion for photography, having accreditation to photograph all levels of football, including International, Champions League and English Premier League games.